Christina Schultz Announces Candidacy for Mesa County Treasurer, with Forward Party Endorsement

MESA COUNTY, CO – Christina Schultz, a seasoned finance professional with over two decades of industry expertise, has officially declared her candidacy for Mesa County Treasurer under the banner of the Forward Party. Christina's extensive background encompasses revenue and expense analysis, internal auditing, financial modeling, and strategic planning, making her a highly qualified candidate to manage the county's finances responsibly and effectively.

Over the past 18 years, Christina has honed her skills by designing, delivering, and facilitating financial and industry simulations, including those within the banking and investment management sectors. Her experience also includes auditing federal government grants and successfully managing her own consulting business for eight years.

"I am incredibly excited by the opportunity to use my skills and experience to serve the people of Mesa County," Christina said. "I look forward to demonstrating that my background is ideally suited to protect, report, and grow county funds."

With the Forward Party endorsement, Christina aligns herself with a political movement dedicated to upholding the rule of law, strengthening democracy, and fostering a more efficient and collaborative government. The Forward Party, championing pragmatic solutions and bipartisanship, resonates with Christina's commitment to innovation in governance.

Christina and her husband KC moved to the Grand Valley in 2020, quickly integrating into the community. Christina serves on the Visit Grand Junction board and contributes to the finance team of the Women's Giving Club Steering Committee. She is completing her third and final year as an elder for Monument Presbyterian Church and previously served on the editorial board of the Grand Junction Sentinel.

To officially kick off her campaign, Christina will host an event at 5 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 19, at Kannah Creek Brewing Company on N 12th Street in Grand Junction. The event is open to the public, and she is excited to meet members of the community and encourages attendees to bring their questions.
